

TheChicagoSchool™

PARTICIPANTS NEEDED!

Are you a caregiver or parent who takes care of a child diagnosed with Prader-Willi Syndrome (PWS)? Does your child engage in repetitive verbal behavior?
We Need Your Help!

I am currently recruiting for a study that is investigating interventions to target repetitive verbal behavior in children with PWS, which is being performed as part of my dissertation at The Chicago School. These interventions will be implemented by the caregiver following participation in training activities. If you are a caregiver interested in learning interventions that may help you manage your child's repetitive verbal behavior in your home, this may be the study for you. This study will last approximately 2-3 weeks with sessions being run 1-3 times per day. All sessions will be recorded. If interested, please contact me using the contact information below. Please share this flyer with anyone that you may think will be interested in participating in this study.

Chante Dix, MA, BCBA, LBA
Primary Investigator
Cnr4994@ego.thechicagoschool.edu

Kasey Bedard, PhD
Dissertation Chair
Kbedard1@thechicagoschool.edu

IRB Protocol Number: IRB-FY24-101 IRB
Phone Number: 312-467-2335

Inclusion Criteria:

- Caregiver is 18 yrs or older
- Access to computer or device with internet access
- Read, speak, and understand English
- Child between 4 and 8 years old with PWS diagnosis
- Child must use vocal output as communication
- Child has no history of severe challenging behaviors